Additional information

Degree Overview

Art & Philosophy brings together Fine Art at Duncan of Jordanstone College of Art & Design and Philosophy at the School of Humanities.

You will be taught by artists of international standing and by respected practising philosophers. The Philosophy section of the course will introduce you to advanced philosophical approaches towards contemporary issues in politics, ethics, art, film, literature and the sciences.

You will have the freedom to explore and develop your own interests, at your own pace, building strong foundations for a successful career in the creative industries.

You are free to explore a wide range of mediums using our high quality studio spaces to support your practice. These include:

painting

sculpture – including clay, plaster, metal, ceramics, and bronze casting woodworking – from picture framing to complex sculptural constructions printmaking – including etching, screenprint, lithography, and photographic processes photography – darkrooms for analogue photography and media labs for digital editing film – green screen studio for film and photography
