Additional information

Course overview

Are you fascinated by the world of business? Do you dream of becoming a future leader?

Our Business Management degree will help you become an ethical, values-driven professional, equipping you with employability-focused skills to help you thrive in your future career.

The Business Management with Foundation Year is ideal if you are just beginning your journey into the world of Business Management and don't meet the standard entry requirements.

Become an expert in a range of business functions and topics while developing specialist transferrable skills in management, sales, communications, leadership and more. With 86% of large organisations facing skills shortages (The Open University Business Barometer, 2022), now it's the time to make the first step towards your career ambitions.

This programme will allow you to learn about business management knowledge, theory and principles in work-based situations. You will have the chance to critically review and practice the skillset of analysing information and data from a range of sources, as well as making reasoned judgements and solving complex problems in various business contexts.

- Learn to identify and analyse future business trends
- Become an inclusive, ethical and value-driven global citizen and leader
- Learn from the experts and get 'real-world' ready through guest speakers' events
- Gain access to Solent's virtual learning environment, with quick online access to assignments, lecture notes, suggested reading and more
- Balance your full-time studies with your personal life with flexible study options, such as evenings and weekends
