Degree Overview

Prepare to lead the shift toward corporate sustainability with our Master's in Sustainability Management, created in collaboration with UNITAR. Gain expertise in carbon footprint management, circular economy, ESG reporting, and SDGs to drive meaningful corporate change and contribute to a more sustainable future, aligning with global demands for responsible business practices and making an impact on a rapidly evolving world.

Study in Paris or Madrid, where interdisciplinary learning covers development, ecology, economics, and ethics. Learn to apply sustainability strategies using a triple-bottom-line approach—people, profit, and planet—to tackle some of the most pressing challenges organizations face today.

This program offers UNITAR certification and a graduation ceremony at the UN in Switzerland, creating unique networking opportunities with international experts. Top-performing students can also apply for 3-month internships with international organizations, gaining invaluable experience and boosting their career prospects in sustainability management. You'll graduate with the skills to create real-world solutions, positioning yourself as a leader in the evolving global business landscape, ready to foster long-lasting, positive change.

Study reasons

Global Curriculum - tackle global sustainability challenges—inequality, environmental policy, ethics—through an interdisciplinary approach combining Business, Management, Economics, International Relations, and Public Policy.
