Course Details

This degree is designed for those with an interest in accounting and finance.

During the first year, you'll develop a solid understanding of the fundamentals of accounting and finance. Years two and three will explore how organisations use accounting and finance practices to make sensible predictions and sound business decisions in an ever-changing business landscape.

As part of the curriculum, in addition to your accounting and finance knowledge, you'll also develop the skills demanded by today's business employer including critical analysis, leadership, team working, communication and presentation skills.

Recognised by the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (ACCA), successful completion of this undergraduate degree will exempt you from 9 of the 13 ACCA exams, accelerating your career ambitions of becoming a chartered accountant.

Additionally, you'll also be well placed to continue your studies within the field of finance and accounting by undertaking courses such as:

- MSc Corporate Financial Management
