If you want to explore business on an international and global level, then this could be the course for you. It has been uniquely designed for those who are interested in studying among the UK's finest creatives in a design-led environment. This course will provide you with a holistic and integrated approach to your practice.

Degree overview:

We live in uncertain times, and so it is crucial that entrepreneurs and those working in senior business positions are culturally agile and adaptable. On this MBA at Ravensbourne University London, you will develop global perspectives, broaden your horizons and become an expert in evaluating current challenges in business management. During the course, you will take an in-depth look at business management and administration and will participate in a collaborative working environment. Through a series of business lectures and classes taught by industry and academic professionals, you will develop a varied skill-set to enable you to progress your career in business and management. You will be pushed outside of your comfort zone to enhance your own leadership skills and be put to the test through simulated tasks emulating real world practice. Study in a supportive environment with like-minded individuals who can share your ideas and vision. This versatile MBA in business administration will support and prepare you for progression into a variety of sectors and roles. Graduates often secure roles within the areas of consulting, finance and investment, technology, analysis, operations and human resource management (HRM).
