Speciality

Five Dorms with Dedicated Faculty

Foxcroft has five dormitories that each house between 20-45 girls. Dorm Teams are comprised of four dedicated faculty members and several student leaders managing residential life and daily happenings.

Nurturing Healthy Minds & Bodies

Sleeping porches are a distinctive part of our School culture and are instrumental in our mission to nurture healthy minds and healthy bodies.

A Source of Support Away from Home

Each girl at Foxcroft establishes a special, unique relationship with her faculty advisor. Through weekly meetings, shared meals in the Dining Hall or in the advisor's home, and other activities, girls find their advisors to be a source of support away from home.

Additional information

At Foxcroft, you will experience college-preparatory program and apply real-world knowledge and thinking to a customized curriculum designed to be interdisciplinary, collaborative, and experiential. Everything we do is curriculum.

Foxcroft isn't just a school of girls. It is a school FOR girls. What does that mean?

- We understand the way girls learn — and structure classrooms and lesson plans around that.
- There are no boundaries or glass ceilings. High expectations for achievement in whatever endeavor a girl encounters are the norm.
- We know that relationships build self-esteem and purpose in girls, so we offer endless opportunities for students to connect with each other and with adults via collaborative, connected learning experiences, in and out of the classroom.
- Risk-taking is encouraged and students aren't afraid to try because they feel supported by their teachers and peers at our affordable private boarding school for girls in Virginia.

Foxcroft is a boarding high school. We offer secondary school courses.

We are a four-year, 9th-12th grade school.

Our courses are all college-preparatory.
