Program description

Degree awarded: MGM Global Management (Public Policy)

The public policy concentration within the MGM program is designed for students who wish to work in cross-sector roles within public and nonprofit institutions around the world. Other students may use this program as a springboard into jobs in the private sector that have significant overlap with public agencies. In short, graduates are prepared in both global management and public policy to meet the demands of an increasingly interwoven economy.

Through this concentration, offered in collaboration with the Watts College of Public Service and Community Solutions, graduates are able to apply analytical techniques and conceptual frameworks to understand policy issues and to identify potential solutions to real-world challenges.

About Thunderbird

Thunderbird School of Global Management has produced world-class leaders for more than 75 years. Program learning outcomes

Program learning outcomes identify what a student will learn or be able to do upon completion of their program. This program has the following program outcomes:

- Develop the ability to build sustainable and trusting relationships with others from diverse parts of the world.
- Develop the ability to inspire others in a global world.
- Evaluate the development of public administration and institutional analysis of policy processes.

Global opportunities

Global experience

Students in Thunderbird's Master of Global Management program have unique opportunities to apply and hone their learning in international settings. Experiential learning exposes Thunderbird students to actual problems faced by leaders of multinational businesses and governmental or nonprofit organizations that operate on an international level.

Working with Thunderbird professors, their fellow students, alumni and corporate partners, students master and apply global management principles and concepts to meet real business challenges through special courses, labs and projects. Thunderbird offers a wide variety of experiential learning engagements, giving students the ability to solve real-world challenges by collaborating with the school's corporate partners around the world. Some options include:

Global Field Seminars

This one- or two-week seminar exposes students to the dynamics and nuances of doing business in a focused region of the world. Teams of students go on company site visits and attend high-level meetings and presentations with business, government and cultural leaders as well as with Thunderbird alumni. Students gain invaluable hands-on experience while expanding their global business skills, enabling them to become major assets to any organization they join after graduating.

Career opportunities

Career examples include:

- business continuity planner
- intelligence analyst
- legislator
- political scientist
- regulatory affairs manager
- sustainability specialist
- social and community service manager
