Intake/s

We offer rolling admissions for both the fall and spring semesters

Requirements

In addition to providing a high quality, career-oriented, and affordable education, we offer a supportive and welcoming environment for international students.

International students with a high school diploma (or its equivalent) are welcome to study here. We offer rolling admissions throughout the year.

To apply, applicants must submit:

- A completed admissions application
- An Affidavit of Support
- Proof of proficiency in English, such as a satisfactory score on the TOEFL examination
- A high school diploma or its equivalent, and other evidence of qualifying for university study in their native country

Students without demonstrated proficiency in English may be admitted conditionally and required to complete a sequence of English language courses.

The Office of Admissions reviews documents received from international applicants throughout the year. Once accepted, you will receive all of the appropriate forms and information so you can begin your studies in the summer, fall, or spring semester.

Process: Following the conclusion of the add/drop period, the Bursar will identify registered undergraduate students with F1 or J1 visa codes in the Banner system and apply the corresponding exemption amount to the student's account.

Accommodation

If you are arriving for the first time to New York, we can help you to book affordable, short-term housing for your first 1 to 4 weeks in New York. We will then be happy to advise you on how to find affordable long-term housing once you are in New York. Please email us at info.gst@touro.edu or call +1.212.463.0400 x 55319 if you need to book a student single room for your arrival to New York.

Educational Housing Services (not affiliated with Touro) is a company that provides student housing in New York City.

Eleven80 (not affiliated with Touro) is a short 30 minute ride on a PATH train and is located in Newark, New Jersey.

Pathway Program to Earn an MS in I-O Psychology

Are you interested in using your business degree to improve the relationship between leadership, management and employees and to improve employee satisfaction and efficiency? As an I-O Psychologist you do that and more. If you're interested in an IO Psychology career you can get started on your master's program while completing your bachelor's degree. The Behavioral Science Pathway program allows you to earn graduate credits towards an MS in I-O Psychology as an undergraduate student. You can reduce your course load in graduate school and earn your MS degree faster. This program also allows you to see if you're interested in graduate study before you officially enroll in a master's program. Through this program, you will enroll as a I-O Psychology MS student in the School of Health Sciences (SHS) of Touro University.
