Additional information

Degree Overview

As part of a vibrant studio and workshop culture, students will develop skills in traditional textile processes like screen printing and knit and stitch, alongside more contemporary technologies like 3D printing and laser cutting. Through these mediums, students will build and expand their knowledge of colour, structure, pattern, and form.

Dundee is a UNESCO City of Design and home to the V&A Dundee. The city has a rich textile history, and many of our graduates establish themselves in the surrounding area, as well as across the world.

Study Reasons

Gain core skills in printed and knitted textile design while developing an understanding of the ways textiles can be used in society

Our students and graduates regularly win top awards through live industry briefs, international competitions and at the annual graduate showcase, New Designers.

Many graduates have successful careers as textile designers
