

University of Oregon

Religious Studies

Study details

Course type: Bachelor's degree
Degree: Religious Studies BA/BS
Study mode: Full time
Duration: 48 Month

Cost of study

Cost : 44 598 USD
Reg. fee : N/A USD
Scholarship :
Insurance : N/A USD

Intake/s

Sep

Requirements

- English entry - TOEFL 88+ (IELTS 7.0)
- GPA entry - 3.0 GPA or equivalent

Accommodation

- Shared bedroom
- Shared bathroom
- Shared kitchen
- High-speed internet connectivit
- Rooms that come with basic furniture (bed, mattress, desk, chair, dresser and closet)
- All bills included
- Access to student lounges with TVs and games for entertainment
- On-site laundry facilities
- Secure door entry and security cameras for your safety

Speciality

If your English and / or academic level is lower than what you see above, please contact us. We will do everything we can to find you a great path to university.

Additional information

About the major

How has Islam played a role in the political climate in the Middle East? What can archaeology tell us about early Christianity? How has ancient Shintoism and Buddhism shaped Japan's culture today? In Religious studies courses at the University of Oregon, world-renowned scholars teach students to think critically about answers to these and other questions.”

In today's increasingly globalized world, the importance of cultivating a deeper understanding of our international community is more important than ever. The Department of Religious Studies is committed to this concept and focuses on the history and philosophy of Asian and Western religions through an examination of original ideas, texts, rituals, and subgroups. Whether learning about Buddhism, Daoism, Hinduism, Christianity, Judaism, Islam, or a variety of other religions, students gain a rich understanding of the region where the religion began and the people who continue to practice it today. At the same time, students also learn how religions migrate and transform with societies over time, through studying multiple facets of culture including sex and gender paradigms, ethnicity perspectives, nationalism, colonialism, mysticism, and comparative religion.

A little more info

- Department faculty members specialize in Jewish, Christian, Islamic and Chinese religions as well as Japanese Buddhism, and pursue research in such areas as Islamic and Arabic Studies, new religious movements, and religion in modernity. They are fluent in multiple ancient languages and have won awards for their teaching.
- Students enjoy small seminars, where their professors get to know them.
- Majors have opportunities to work as undergraduate research assistants.
- Each year, the department awards the Jack T. Sanders Memorial Award for excellence in undergraduate research and writing in the field of religious studies.
- The religious studies department supports an inclusive, diverse campus, encouraging understanding across religious traditions.