Additional information

Degree Overview

The main difference between our BSc and MA International Business with Marketing degrees comes in the first two years.

The MA option is for you if you are looking for even greater flexibility and if you have a strong interest in the arts and social science subjects.

The degree has economics at its core covering micro and macroeconomics. It is much broader than a standalone economics degree and analyses the major external factors effecting global business, globalisation and applied policy.

We live in a world where business operations are becoming increasingly global in scale. National boundaries now matter very little to decisions about where goods are made and services provided. In this course you will learn what this means for today's business world.

In this course you will focus more on marketing and gain a strong understanding of international business processes and practices.
