Course Details

This course provides a thorough grounding in the legal framework governing registered companies (including compliance and administration) whilst developing the knowledge and skills necessary for practice as a company secretary or governance professional. It will cover areas such as: the nature and formation of the company; the board of directors; membership of the company; capital and corporate transparency; corporate restructuring, rescue and liquidation; the role of the company secretary, board and other stakeholders; and meetings and shares.

Whether you have plans to join a global corporation or simply want to know more about how corporate law works in practice, this programme will provide you with the knowledge to help you achieve your ambitions.

When you study the LLM Company Law with us you will:

- Be taught by our expert lecturers, including subject matter specialists, former and current practitioners, and research and teaching focused academics.
- Benefit from strategic partnerships with firms, regulators and accreditation bodies, which inform our programme development.
- Improve your employability by gaining important transferable skills and mapping your career with our careers team.
- Strengthen your network - connect with other students, faculty and industry professionals on an international scale, and seek out opportunities for future placements and job opportunities.
